Dear Editor:

The Rev. Paul Harris made the following statement in his article, "Pornography: Danger - Close":

"Pornography leads to crime. The common interest among serial killers is pornography. 1983 statistics show that those states with the highest sales of pornography also have the highest number of rapes. And there has never been a child molester who has not been found to be a habitual user of pornography (Christian News pp 34 March 11, 2024)

Well, Dr. Milton Diamond, Prof. emeritus of Anthropology and Sociology along with two Czech professors of Anthropology and Sociology did a study of the Czechs' legalization of the production, sale, and possession of adult porn and the legalization of the possession of child porn when the new liberal gov't. of Prague, Czechoslovakia kicked out

Then in 1991, after the Czechs and the Slovaks split up, the Czechs maintained the legal possession of child porn as well as the legal production, sale, and possession of adult porn. What Dr. Milton Diamond and his Czech colleagues found was that from 1991 to 2007 there was a decline of sex crimes against women but that there was a significant decline of sexual abuse of children. Now I'm sure that the Czech Republic had very few negroes or other Third World immigrants at this time. But certainly, white Czech women benefited from the legal production, sale, and possession of adult porn and white children benefited even more from the legal possession of child porn. You can see the abstract of Dr. Milton Diamond's study published in 2010 @ his website which you'll have to Google!

Sincerely,

Luke Ectrich
